

A balanced curriculum for a fast-changing world

Being a Master of Business, the business subjects that we teach have been selected based on the modules that top-tier MBAs have in their CORE curriculums. However, a valuable learning program is one that gives you the right skills.

That is why we have incorporated to our CORE, subjects that respond to the 21st century management and soft life skills that leading organizations are demanding and that are essential for you to stand out and become the perfect candidate.
